BRILLENMAKERS

Housed in a monumental, beautifully restored old presbytery and surrounded by an amazing classical garden filled with statues, this Dutch optical store is certainly different from all other ones we know. Inside the combination of old elements and modern design create a warm and friendly atmosphere without being cosy. The stylish collection feels at home in this timeless space where large white walls and an old wooden floor make sure the frames and sunglasses get room to become the real stars on stage.
